The San Jose Boomers Taken Unaward Strong Talk of Boodle-The Main Cause of the Changes in Voting.

By Telegraph to The Times. SACRAMENTO, March 14.— Special.]
A concerted effort was again made in both houses today looking to the rescinding of the action of the Legisla ture of last Saturday night. In the Senate it took shape this afternoon in an attempt by Mr. Hart of Sacramento to have the journal of last Saturday changed. A lengthy discussion ensued, but the Senate refused to alter the records. In the House tonight, by a system of parliamentary jugglery, the question of raising the motion of reconsideration, which was so decisively voted down yesterday, was again brought up, and, for over half an hour, the greatest excitement reigned. The lobbies and galleries were packed, and whenever any speaker alluded in a complimentary manner to Sacramento the cheering was deafening

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS

Senate and House,
SACRAMENTO, March 14.—[By the Associated Press.] Senate.—A kind of go-as-you-please session was held this morning. This being the last day of the session, the regular rules of order were disregarded and bills were called up at the will of the Senators.

The Assembly bill to provide for the purchase of a residence for the Governor was defeated. The following bills were passed: The Sentate bill creating a board of building and lean commissioners, the Assembly bill to encourage the estab-lishment of county and reform schools, the Assembly bill relating to the govern-

Tax Levy Bill.

The general levity commenced at 0:15, and the remainder of the session was a howling farce. Senator McGowan was in the chair. He opened the festivities by advising the Senators to keep their hands on their watches, as there was a member of the Assembly on the floor. A lot of humorous resolutions were adopted. The Senators resembled a crowd of schoolboys in their pranks and hilarity. a crown of schoolooys in their plants and hilarity.

Lient.-Gov. Reddick, president of the Senate, was brought before the bar of the Statehouse, and, after a mock trial, sentenced to accept a set of silveware as a mark of esteem of his fellow Sen-senator Carpenter was next ar-raigned and presented with a gold-headed cane. He made a fitting speech, in which he stated that it was his intention to retire from politics.

The secretary of the Senate, F. J. Brandon, was charged with malice prepense in causing the removal of the capital from Sacramento to San José. He was presented with a silver teaset. Other attachés of the Senate were pre-Sented with gifts.

A recess was taken.

Assembly.—The Senate bill providing for the redemption of unused transportation tickets was defeated.

The following bills were passed: The Senate bill proving for a State mining bureau; the amendment increasing the State Board of Education by adding the president and professor of pedagogics of the University of California; the

The bill as amended shows that for the raised by taxation to defray the State's expenses was $6,460,939, and for the Ar solution offered by Mr. Matthews was adopted to allow Mr. Bretz $56,

The peevish inconsiderateness with which the Legislature passed the resolution to remove the State capital betrays a menace to the taxpayers of the State in sending such veally fellows to make our laws. In the light of the events of the past two or three days the press and people of the whole State will experience a sensation of extreme relief that the Legislature is about to adjourn without having wrecked the Constitution. He was summoned to Washington by telegraph, and arrived this morning. He was shown into the private secretary's room, while Secreary Gresham joined his colleagues, who were with the President. SENATE CHAIRMANSHIPS. The Selections as side by the Steering Committee.

Washington, March 14.— By the Associated Press.] The Democratic cauous finished its labors today, so far as the reorganization of the committees of the Senate is concerned. During the session of the caucus the prevailing sentiment was in favor of the speedy reorganization of the clerical and executive force of the Senate, and the sentiment took tangible shape immediately after adjournment, when the Caucus Committee met for the purpose of considering the subject. This important branch of the work of the major ity is now well under way, and it is probable that by this time next week the elective officers of the Senate will have been changed. Either upon the standing or select committees places will be found as chairman for all the new Democratic Senators. The Repub-licans have been given eleven committees, just the number they gave the Democrats.

The chairmen of the various committees, as given by Gorman, are as follows: Agriculture, George: Appropriations, Cockrell; Contingent Expenses, White (La.;) Census, Turple; Civil Service, Call; Claims, Pascoe; Coast Defenses, Gordon; Comfierce, Ransom; District of Columbia, Harris; Education and Labor, Kyle; Enrolled Bills, Caffery; To Examine the Sev-eral Branches of the Civil Service, Peffer; Finance, Voorhees; Fisheries, Coke: Foreign Relations, Morgan Coke; Foreign Relations, Morgan; Immigration, Hill; Improvement of the Mississippi River. receive the sanction of the Senate to morrow by resolution, and the old chair men will then give up the rooms they have occupied, and the Democrats wil be in possession of that important branch of the Senate. Nominations will then be received and promptly acted upon.

The Republicans Will Meet in Louisville May 10.

Apportionment of Delegates—The Party's Defeat in 1892-A Call for Re newed Action All Aloug the Line.

y Telegraph to The Times. New York, March 14.- [By the Asso ciated Press. | The call for the annual convention of the Republican National League, to meet in Louisville on Wednesday, May 10, was issued today. The ratio of representation will be six delegates at large from each State and Territory, and four from each Congresdistrict and one from each college Republican club in the United States. The national convention of the American Republican College League will be held at the same place on May 11.

The call says: "The members of the league accept the party defeat of 1892 as a larger call upon them for renewed devotion and effort in the Congressional elections of 1894, the Presidential election of 1896, and in the State and local party contests during the time in-tervening. It is ready, with its vast membership, with one of its own clubs at work in almost every neighborhood in the United States, every day in the year, in all the nobler efforts of party methods through popular effort and popular education to bear the burden of daily party work in four years to come. In this new day of complete Democratic ascendancy in the Nation and the restoration of sectional rule in the Government with the committees of the United States Senate being organ ized in the interest of a section com-posing one-fourth of the States of the Union, in which States the Republican possess sufficient trade instinct to recognize outlets for American merchandise and ability to aid in working up the market for products of American interests of the great corporations of the land, there is but added reason for increasing ardor and activity on the part of every true friend of human rights, free labor and self-respecting Americanism. The struggle did not end in 1892. As Abraham Lincoln, in the hour of a previous Republican de-feat, so faithfully said: All Republi-cans may say with fidelity now the fight must go on. The cause of human liberty must not be surrendered at the end of one or even one hundred defeats.

It must go on until the weak and help less of all classes and conditions are protected under the laws, and until the day shall come when the rights of a Republican shall be as fully admitted and as fully protected at every voting place in the land as the rights of a Democrat.' "To this end the National Committee of the National Republican League cordially invites all citizens who believe in onest elections and the right of ever American voter to cast one vote, an have it fairly counted; who believe is the dignity of free labor and the faith ful maintenance of the difference be tween American and European wages who believe in the old American polic of protection to American indus-try and to American workmen, and i the new American policy of reciprocity who believe in the fullest protection of all classes who have invested interests and yet who are opposed to corporation rule in the government of either Nation or State; who believe in sound money, and honest gold and silver money as money, pledged in the national Re-publican platform at Minneapolis; who believe in such improvements and extensions of the banking systems of the country as will bring the banking facilities nearer to the people of the smaller towns and communities, who believe in practical civil service reform, such as will separate the spoils idea from politics, and yet preserve to the people the con trol of the public offices and all public affairs, and who believe in liberal politics, and yet in the assertion of Amer-

The murder created 'a great sensation throughout the State, but no progress was made in discovering the murderers.

Heath was arrested last evening

Heath was arrested last evening about 5 o'clock, and when the officer about 5 o'clock, and when the officer told him he was wanted on a charge of murder he asked: "Fresno!" The officer answered "yes," and Heath said: "I have been expecting this, but thought the thing had blown over."

CAN PROVE AN ALIBI. Heath then declared he could prove an alibi, and that he could prove by the clerk of the Grand Central Hotel at Fresno that he went to bed at 11 o'clock on the night of August 28, and that he was asleep in his room at the time McWhirter was killed. Heath says he was McWhirter's friend and says he was McWhirter's friend, and the theory is that McWhirter was killed by mistake. Among the murdered law-yer's firm friends was Joseph E. Baker, a well-known newspaper writer, who was brought down to Fresno by McWhiter to conduct the Fresno Expositor in the interests of his faction in the Democratic party. Baker made many enemies by his articles in the Ex-positor, and among them Heath. The latter resented the statements made in his presence by Baker concerning State Senator Goucher, and in the fight that ensued he was badly whipped by Baker. Heath swore he would kill Baker, and hunted for him the next day with a re-volver, but did not find the newspaper man. Heath still swore vengeance, but got no opportunity to get even. THE PROSECUTION'S THEORY About this time McWhirter went to the mountains with his wife, and Baker occupied his house during his absence. About a week before the murder Mc-Whirter returned and Baker left. Heath was working on the Curtis ranch, near Fresno, and did not know McWhirter had returned. The theory is that Heath went to McWhirter's house, thinking Baker was there and intending to kill him. Instead, however, McWhirter rushed out, revolver in hand, and Heath shot the man whom he called his best

The fact that Heath had been arrested here was not generally known until this morning, as Heath was taken immediately over to Oakland and put on a train bound for Fresno, where he arrived last night. The arrest was made by apt. Cullendan, of the Morse Detective Agency. Heath had just come to the city from Los Gatos, where he had been taking the Keelev cure. He is well known in San Francisco, where he has friends and relatives of high standing. riends and relatives of high standing. Crittenden Thornton, Mrs. McWhirter's attorney, said he was not surprised at the arrest of Heath and Polley. He said: "These men were but the catspaw of others more powerful, and I expect to see many political and financial reputations in this State shattered in a very short time."

EXCITEMENT IN FRESNO. FRESNO. March 14.-This city was greatly excited at the news of the arrest of McWhirter's murderers. The arrest of Heath in San Francisco was a great surprise, though he had long been suspected. The grand jury is now in session here, and it is understood will return indictments against Heath and Polley. It is believed Heath will plead insanity as his defense. The name of the third man to be arrested is not known, but it is stated he will, be caught before night.

INDICTED BY THE GRAND JURY. The grand jury now in session here found three indictments this afternoon. They are against Richard Heath, W. F. Polley and John Doe, all charged with the murder of McWhirter. Heath and pathy with the other policies and aspirations of the Republican party of the future are invited to unite at once in membership with the league clubs in their own neighborhoods and participate in the election of delegates to the national convention at Louisville.

The Republican parts be obtained. Polley was before the grand jury this afternoon nearly two hours, and it is the impression he had made a confession. It is stated by eartain authorities that the evidence against these men, though entirely circumstantial, is of such a character as to leave no doubt of their guilt.

Paris, March 14.—[By Cable and Associated Press. The court was again crowded today when the trial of Charles de Lesseps, Baihut and fellowde-fendants was resumed. At the opening M. Barboux said the imputation of Mme. Cottu's evidence, concocted previously, was false and calumnious.

Constans, the former Minister of the Interior, denied in emphatic language the alleged assertion of Yves Guyot, the effect that he (Constans) handed President Carnot a list of the deputies implicated in the alleged bribery corruption. He had never, he declared, possessed such a list.

Bonaparte Wyse testified that he remembered Monchicourt, the official liquidator of the Panama Canal Company, and eighteen months ago one of the directors of the Panama Canal Company, had handed him a sealed paper.

Charles de Lesseps hastily arose and denied the statement. He had given Monchicourt a full account of all the expenditures, excepting f.1,400,000, for the employment of which he fully and candidly explained to Examining Magistrate Franqueville.

The deposition of Monchicourt was read in court. It set forth that Charles de Lesseps refused to communicate the names of the beneficiaries of f. 7,000, 000 in bonds made payable to the bearer.
The deposition of Henry Cottu. one of the directors of the company, was next read. It set forth that Charles de Lesseps alone managed the payment of lump sums in behalf of the company. Cottn's deposition stated that he merel approved the payments without con-cerning himself with the destination of

The complaint further states that under the existing contracts the company is bound to inches of water continuously, and that the purchasers have already paid for said water; that in order to acquire the water necessary to fulfill the contracts and construct the necessary flumes, etc., it will be necessary to expend a sum exceeding $800,00); that within the past two years the company has received from the sale of water $950,000, of which $500,000 has been expended; that if the practice of paying dividends the manner objected to continues the parties to whom the company has contracted to deliver water will suffer an irreparable loss by reason of the in ability of the corporation to perform their contract. The terms did not suit Jackson, and he with-drew the forfeit money and an-nounced his retirement from the ring. If Jackson wishes to fight me seven onths after I meet Mitchell, the original proposition is still before him, and if Mitchell should flunk in any way be tween now and next December, I am perfectly willing Jackson should take his place, but he will have to pay his own training expenses if he wants to fight me for the title I hold." A DANGEROUS CRIMINAL

in This City.

Louis Matheny, the burglar who is charged with complicity in the murder of Policeman Cashin of Oakland last Saturday, is well known to the authorities in this city as one of the smoothest scoundrels ever placed behind the bars. In July, 1890, Matheny arrived in this city with a pal named Eddy Moran. The pair had in their possession a complete kit of burglars' tools, and for several weeks were under the constant eral weeks were under the constant surveillance of the police. De-tective Benson followed the two one night as they started out with bundle from which saud disreputable haunts, and when the men-found that their steps were being dogged they threw the bundle over a fence and ran away. The parcel was fence and ran away. The parcel was found to contain several instruments used in forcing doors and locks. Later another lot of similar tools were found the foundation of the Tenth hotel, and it was ascertained that Moran and Matheny had secreted the stuff there. The men were arrested but as no direct charge could be lodge against them, they were shortly after-ward released and invited to leave town immediately. Their photographs still occupy a conspicuous place in the "rogues' gallery" in Chief Glass's office. It is thought here that Matheny's companion, Joseph Touhill, who was killed by the Oakland policeman, is none other than Eddy Moran, his former pal.

Yesterday some other articles were given her on her identification of them.

A charge of burglary has been preferred against John Dwyer by Detectives Auble and Benson. Dwyer is accused of having stolen a gold watch and some other articles from the room of Mr. Clark, cook at the Westminster. O'Connor, were also buried by the lat-ing of the wall, but were rescued, more or less seriously injured. The bodies of four people are still in the ruins, and it is impossible to reach them tonight. At 10 o'clock yesterday morning Fred Mayne, the young Englishman recently convicted of having embezzled a horse horse and buggy belonging to the Tally-ho Stables and Carriage Company, appeared before Judge Smith in Depart ment One to receive sentence. Although the defendant did not seem to relish the prominent position which he was compelled to assume when called upon to stand up at the bar in the presence of the large crowd in attendance, there was an air of confidence about his demeanor which was unmistakably due to the fact that the jury had apperided to their verdict a line recommending him to the "full mercy" of the Court.

After reviewing the proceedings and disposing of the usual preliminaries Judge Smith addressed the defendant in his sternest tones as follows:

disposing of the usual preliminaries Judge Smith addressed the defendant in his sternest tones as follows:

Mr. Mayne, the jury has recommended you to the "full mercy" of the Court. If we were to dispose of criminal matters on the plan of mercy, it would be a pleasant consummation, but there is not much mercy in convicting a man and sending him to the state prison and locking him up. It is a matter that does not seem to fall within the line of mercy. Now, Mr. Mayne, I suppose from the testimony in this case, and from all the circumstances, that it is whisky which has brought you to the position you are placed in today—whisky! It is in evidence that you have acquired a habit of drinking whisky, and have become a drunkard, that your wife was compelled on that account to leave you.

I suppose that was your little girl we saw here (a beautiful child five or six years of age.) and your wife, even clinging to you after she had been compelled and forced by your brutal, inhuman, outrageous and cowardly conduct toward her, to get a divorce, breaking up your family. And you, with your eyes open, a man with a big brain, still going on. after that trouble had occurred, breaking that woman's heart, disgracing your child, and bringing such wreck and ruin as that into your family.

There is no excuse at all, sir! If you have smoothed over your conscience about those deeds with the idea that you could fill up with whisky and go out and perpetrate crimes upon society, you were never more mistaken in your life. There is a class of men who think that when they get drunk they are privileged characters, and that they can cut, kill, slay, steal and do most anything, and just throw up their hands and say, "I was drunk," and you are "recommended to the full mercy of the Court."

There might be some admiration for a criminal who would have courage to stand a man up and rob him; but for a man who will day after day, week after week, month after month, and year after year, pursue a course that he knows is ruining and sectory in the surfa sideration in passing sentence.

In view of all the circumstances, it is the judgment of the Court that you be confined in the State prison at San Quentin for the period of three years.

AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT. AT THE OPERAHOUSE-Othello. PARK THEATER-Oliver Twist.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Com pany Must Pay Its Taxes.

The passage of the Seawell Reassessment Bill in the Senate by unanimous vote shows a complete back-down on the part of the railroad cohorts, for which the people in this end of the State at least were totally unprepared. It was believed that the Senate was irretrievably fixed for the Carpenter bill, and that nothing could come but a disagreement between the House and Senate, which would have left the reassessment an unsolved problem for two years longer. On the last day of grace, however, the railroad company seems to have concluded to beat a re treat. Orders were accordingly issued from Fourth and Townsend streets, and Senator Carpenter was not the man to disobey. Distasteful as the task must have been to him. he gave the signal of defeat to the railroad Senators. He attempted to cover his confusion by an hour's harangue, and then moved a concurrence in the House amendment. Whereupon all the railroad Senators fell down, and a clearcut victory was gained for the people of California.

This seems like an opportune time t review the issue between the State and the several counties that are interested on the one side and the railroad company on the other.

1879, after the adoption of the new Constitution, the Southern Pacific corporation assumed the policy of nonpayment of its State and county taxes. It did this primarily because it rebelled against the plan of assessment by the State Board of Equalization, and the reason which it alleged in court was that the State authorities had assessed a Federal franchise. Behind this apparent conflict between State and national authority the big corporation took shelter, and set out to avoid the payment of all State and county taxes. In a case which was tried before the Santa Clara court a decision was secured that the Federal franchise, fences and steamboats were included in the State assessments, thus rendering such assessments void. This was carried up to the Supreme Court of the United States, and the judgment in favor of the railroad company was there confirmed May 10, 1886. This set aside the delinquent taxes for 1880, 1881 and

Undoubtedly the Santa Clara case was "hocus-pocused" in order to get the evidence in in such shape that it would As it went to the Supreme Court on this same evidence, the confirmation of that tribunal, with Justice Field to take care of the matter, was not hard to get.

Next followed the suits for the recovery of taxes of 1883 and 1884. These were never actually tried, but were "fixed up" on a stipulation, signed by Atty.-Gen. Marshall and Creed Hay mond, that all the cases should be sub mitted on the testimony in the Santa Clara case. This stipulation was entered into after the Supreme Court had passed on the Santa Clara case, so that the rights of the State were actually bartered away by a complaisant Attor ney General.

The taxes of 1885 were lost on practically the same stipulation-being also referred back to the Santa Clara case, which was already res adjudicata. It is a significant fact that the assess ments for 1880. 1881 and 1882 were made by one board of equalization, and those of 1883, 1884 and 1885 by another and entirely different body. Yet Atty. -Gen. Marshall was willing to stipulate away the cause of the State on the shallow ground that whatever mistake the former hoard may have made, the latter board must necessarily have repeated. Probably as he jingled the price of his complaisance in his pocket, he thought that it was not at all necessary to go into an investigation to find whether the Federal franchise had actually been assessed or not. He gave up the issue without a trial, knowing that the first case had been decided on false testimony, and that it would not be advisable for the railroad company to go into a full and fair investigation. He deliberately signed away the claim of the people. whose interests he had been elected to

The 1887 cases, recently tried by Judge Hebbard of San Francisco (decision rendered February 3, 1893,) were the only tax suits in which the issue as to whether the Federal franchise was really assessed or not was ever actually and fairly contested and These cases went against the railroad company. It was the first break in the long chain of "skulduggery" which that corporation was enabled de its just obligations. The final s of Judge Hebbard's decision were:

by the courts of the various States, and of the United States. There is little in the contentions of defendants, as herein made, to commend them to the favor able consideration of a court of justice

They had abundant opportunity to show good faith in the matter of these taxes, either under section 3665 of the Political Code, by appearing before the Board of Equalization to have the assessments corrected in any particular illegal or unjust to them, or under section 3669, Political Code, by payment of and suit to recover back said taxes, neither of which opportunities were availed of by defendants as far as this Court is informed. But instead they come into court, offering to pay no portion of their taxes, valid or invalid, resisting the payment of every cent thereof, and seek to avoid liability by technical defenses, which are not sustained, either in fact or in law

From both standpoints of facts and law, the findings must be that a Federal franchise was not included in these assessments.

Thus we follow the tortuous course of the tax cases and find that after years of the most transparent trickery, de signed to beat the commonwealth out of the money due it, there was at last found an honest tribunal which sifted the matter to the bottom and decided it upon its merits.

It is only fair to assume that the State has lost none of its rights to reassess the property of the Southern Pacific corporation back to the very time when it ceased paying its taxes. The dishonest juggle in the Santa Clara case, and the equally dishonest juggle with the Santa Clara case for years afterward, through the agency of a traitorous Attorney-General, has not barred the State from its province of reassessing and collecting the full amount due, with penalties attached.

Of course, the matter is not fully determined as yet-at least, the delinquent taxes, are not in the State treasury. If the Seawell bill is approved by the Governor and becomes a law (as it undoubtedly will,) the reassessment will be made, and then the railroad company can give it another whirl in the courts, if it is still disposed to fight. But public attention has been so thoroughly attracted to the matter and public indignation has been aroused to such a pitch that it is safe to say there will be no more of the old chicanery, either in trying the case or in stipulating away the cause of the people.

It really looks now as though the railroad company will be obliged to bear its just proportion of the burdens of government for all the time it has shirked and for the future.

THE TIMES felicitates itself on a con sistent record in this matter ever since it became a public issue. We have insisted, in season and out of season, that the railroad company should be brought up to the mark in its obligations. The mills of the gods, which have ground so slowly, seem to promise now a very fine grist and a very large one. We congratulate every honest taxpayer in defrauded by this long-drawn, iniquitou process, on the prospect that justice is

pany must pay its taxes! Since the Legislature has refused to "eat its leek" on the proposition to remove the State capital, it is certain that this will be one of the liveliest is sues of the next campaign. We believe that whatever objections to the removal may be brought forward, they will be more than overcome by a pre sentation of the advantages to be gained, and that there will be an overwhelming vote in favor of the proposition. If the State can secure the cost of new buildings as a donation from the city selected as the new capital, it is very clear that the State will be just so much ahead. The old buildings can be utilized for some good purpose. We already need another State prison and another reform school. We need a number of public institutions, any one of which might be well accommodated at Sacramento, though it would he a little hard on the inmates to oblige them to live the year round in the Sacramento climate. If a reform institution for the people of Sacramento exclusively were determined upon, it might be filled with those accustomed to those malarious influences, and no great harm would be done. In fact, a good reformatory for Sacramento seems to be about the thing required.

THE Pasadena Star gives notice to local poets, poetasters and poetesses that if the present threatening weather results in any more snow in the mountains, they will be permitted and encouraged to unloose upon the public through the colums of the Star their pent-up verses on the "beautiful." If he has been wrought up to that pitch of enthusiasm, what's the matter with the Star man turning his own Pegasus

MR. REINHART, the new president of the Santa Fé system, is only 41 years of age. He has grown to his position, however, having been first vice-president for several years. He couples the vigor and enthusiasm or manhood at its prime with a ripe measure of experience, and promises to be equal to the successful management and direction of one of the greatest railway systems of

THE World's Fair Sunday-closing law is to be taken before the United States Supreme Court on constitutional grounds. The sooner the question is submitted and settled for good and all the better it will please the people of this country of every shade and degree of religious opinion.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES

GRAND OPERA HOUSE -- Carlton's Vene ian love story proved too great an attrac tion for even a cloudy sky and sloppy streets to deter the playgoers from filling the operahouse last night to see Frederick Warde and Louis James in favorite rôles in The Lion's Mouth. From the moment the urtain went up on the street scene Venice, with its grand canal and floating gondolas, to the last act in the torture cham ber of the Inquisition, there was not a dul moment or a time when the audience did not give their undivided and almost strained attention to the thorough acting and harmony between the words uttered and the parts intended to be portrayed. The figures filled their distinct and separate places, and every gesture of the principals supplied the desired emphasis and meaning. Mr. Warde, as "Paul di Navarra," ing. Mr. Warde, as "Paul di Navarra," plainly interpreted the part in keeping with the mood and understanding of the crowded house, although an apparent slight cold marred, to a scarcely noticeable extent, his utterance. Louis James's dignified mien was adaptable to the part of "Angelo, the Inquisitor," with which the treachery of the character and vengeful desire were most realistically portrayed. Miss Edythe Chapman, the leading lady, as "Lenora" was far from a disappointment, with her grace of movement and passionate action, as was the piquant little Miss Fanny Bow-man as "Marcella," her friend. "The Minuet of the Kiss," with which the second act opens, was one of the prettiest figures presented, the moonlight shining over the water, the boughs of the trees overhead and the mingling of the picturesque effects of mediæval costumes forming a picture of scenic perfection. Of the story itself no outline is needed, nor does severe criticism find any place in its delineation will be the attraction tonight.

SACRAMENTO, March 13, 1893 .-But, oh, what a difference in the morning!"

The city of Sacramento has at last awakened to a realization of its danger. As early as 7 o'clock this morning the Capitol building swarmed with an eager, though seemingly crestfallen, crowd of "all sorts and conditions of men." As drowning men will grasp at a straw, these citizens of Sacramento, who, during the entire session, have sneered at and otherwise looked down upon the members of the Legislature. low themselves stand at the door and tion to remove the capital will send it beg for forgiveness. Their death-day repentance is too transparent; it is their pockets that have been threatened which makes them so obsequious. They beg, they implore, they heap imprecation on the innocent cause of their trouble, The Bee: they threaten and then implore again. But behind them, pressing to the front with implacable persistence, are the San, José cohorts, who, taking advantage of their oppor-tunity, refuse to recede from the vantage-ground gained.

THE BOARD OF TRADE. As I telegraphed you last night, the Board of Trade held a special meeting yesterday afternoon, and passed the following resolutions:

The Sacramento Board of Trade has learned, with profound regret, of the attack made by the evening Bee, in its issue of last evening, upon the members of the Legislature now in session, and of the passage by that body of a concurrent resolution providing for the removal of the State capital from Sacramento to San José. ALBERT M. JOHNSON, Secretary, THE MASS-MENTING.

At night a mass meeting of citizens packed the courthouse. Resolutions were in order and the following were adopted: [Heretofore, published in The Times.] Then several resolutions were read in the House this morning, as was also a telegram from the Mayor and Common Council of the city of San José, conveying the information that the million dollars and the ten-acre sight were ready for the reception o the Capitol. The following type ten circular was also distributed this morning. There was no signature attached, but it is supposed to have emanated from the Secretary of State's office:

SOME STRONG LANGUAGE SOME STRONG LANGUAGE.

SACRAMENTO (Cal., March 12, 1893.
On March 11, the Legislature of the State of California passed a concurrent resolution, submitting to the people of California the question of moving the State capital from Sacramento to San José. I wish, respectfully, to submit for your consideration and that of your readers the following arguments in favor of such removal: arguments in favor of such removal:

LOCATION OF CAPITAL. The capital of California was located at the city of Sacramento through a series of peculiar circumstances. At the time its ocation was considered, the bulk of the opopulation of the State was engaged in mining in the mountains contiguous to Sac-ramento, which was an important shipping and distributing point at that time. This mportance gave it prominence in the location of the capital at that place. The Cali fornia Steam Navigation Company, then engaged in operating a line of steamers on the Sacramento River and of steamers on Bay, took an active part in the controversy and its influence decided the question o location in favor of Sacramento and its influence decided the question of location in favor of Sacramento.

CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDING.

The Capitol building cost §2,500,000, but a better building cost §2,500,000, but a better building could be constructed to day for $1,000,000. It is devoid of modern conveniences, having no elevators, ventilators, heating or speaking tubes or other appliances common to well equipped buildings. The foundation is weak, the north end has settled materially, and during the course of construction, it was almost necessary to abandon that part if the building because of continuous sinking. The roof, plumbing and other portions of the building are a continual scource of heavy expense to the State. The water, gas and waste pipes are worn out, rotten and leaky, and run through walls and in places dimcult of access. There are many pipes in the walls which have no outjet. The building is filled with noxious gases from these sources. The only drainage is into a cesspool in the rear of the building. In attempting to clear this it is almost impossible to pump the matter out as fast as the seepage from the surrounding ground runs in, and the only time it can be emptied is in the driest part of the fall of the year, when the river is at its lowest level. During a portion of the year, the pumps are kept running daily to pump seepage out of the basement of the building. In this basement are located storerooms, where are stored books published by the State, ballot paper, and the archives, and other supplies, which because of the consequent dampness are subject to mold and decay. Men engaged in carrying coal from the coal bunkers in the basement of tentimes have to wade through water. All efforts at sanitation are inefectual to keep the building in a wholesome condition. The expense necessary to keep this building in proper repair for ten years, with the cost sanitation are inexectual to keep the building in a wholesome condition. The expense necessary to keep this building in proper repair for ten years, with the cost of putting it in a passable modern condition, would equal the cost of a new and better building complete.

ATTITUDE OF SACRAMENTO.

The attitude of the people of Sacramento toward the Capitol, the State omcials, the Legislature and all connected therewith is one of overbearing domination. It is assumed that the Capitol and grounds belong to Sacramento, not to California; that California is only a small and unimportant territory adjacent to the city of Sacramento, and that Sacramentans should have full power, control and management of every omce and act relating to the State property. They insist on using the Capitol grounds as their special pleasure park without regard to the rights of the rest of the State. They dictate the policy in all matters concerning the management of Capitol affairs, make street improvements and assessments and let franchises on the streets surrounding the State property without consultation with, or consent of the legal representatives of the State. They arrogate all the powers and pulsa with calumny those who do not acquiesce in their schemes. Further, they consider that the Capitol has been placed in their midst "to live off of."

And in every job of repairs or im provements given to Sacramentans the State is, if possible, cinched in the bills or the materials or work-State is, if possible, cinched in the bills or the materials or work-manship, simply because "the State has to pay for it." This principle is also applied to the State officers and employes personally, with whom the business relations of the cilizens of Sacramento are only games of scinch." It goes without the saying that if it were not for the railroad shops and the State Capitol the city of Sacramento would soon become extinct, or, as a prominent official once said, would be "relegated to the days of Digger Indians and jackass fabbits." Its silurianism must be seen to be understood. It is at least forty years behind the times. Its streets, and the hovels which serve as dwellings and marts are a disgrace to any civilized community, and its inhabitants are so affected by the enervation of its hot, sweltering, miasmic climate that they have not energy enough to brush away the moral and physical rot that begrimes their vision and their existence. As evidences of them want of progress, may be mentioned the Reports from County Officers Received and Filed.

Discussion as to the Disposal of Dead Animals.

Streets in the Ramona and Lattin Tracts Ordered Vacated-Nulsauces at the County Hospital That Should Be Abated.

Quite an accumulation of miscellaneous and routine business awaited the consideration of the Supervisors when pools, decaying dump heaps, want of proper sanitary regulations, and badly lighted streets. There are more saloons and more the board met yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

In the matter of the vacation streets in the Ramona tract, near Alhambra, as no protests were offered, it was ordered that the pecition be granted, and the streets referred to be reverted to acreage.

aiar as a sample of the great and glorious State of California.

The chief difference between the Valley of Gebenna and that part of the Sacramento Valley contiguous to the town, lies in the fact that in the former the Jews burned their offal, while in the latter it is allowed to resolve itself into its elements by the slow and odorous process of decay so delightful and refreshing to the Sacramento nose. Through this vale of enchanting fragrance a foul malarial stream winds its pestilential way to the sea, bordered in its course by swamps and stagnant pools and furnishing the water which the Sacramentan must needs imbibe when nothing stronger is to be had. The Sacramento River is, in fact, the natural sewer for several hundred miles of territory, receiving the putressent sewage from Folsom Prison, delivered to it by the American River, and contaminated by the malarial tribute of China Slough and other sources of pollution too numerous to mention.

As to the character of the vile fluid which the inhabitants have to drink, Mr. John Davis, fellow of the Royal Microscopical Society of England, says: "I ambound to say in common truth that the water of that city (Sacramento) contains more injurious animal and vegetable matter than any other city water I have ever examined, and I really can hardly understand how the city can maintain any degree of health when its people drink such dangerously impure water."

The climate is damp and malarial, chilly and disagreeable in winter, fervid and pestilential in the summer, and has, in fact, everything to condemn and nothing to recommend it. During the winter season fog alternates with rain, and sometimes for weeks no ray of sunshine penetrates the watery nimbus that enfolds the city and weeps its benediction of catarrh upon the sneezing and snuffling inhabitants.

There are few towns on the continent The chief difference between the Valley Regarding the disposal of dead aninals, it has come to the ears of the board that the city, in getting rid of carcasses, did not care what was done with them, so long as they were taken outside the city limits. If such a report was true, the Supervisors thought that some course should be taken whereby an agreement might be effected be tween the city and county officials look ing toward the proper disposition of all carrion liable to endanger health or be a source of nuisance. Dr. Hagan, as county physician, re-ported as to the condition of the hos-pital and inmates and also of the outbuilding and grounds, from a sanitary point of view. He complained of sev-eral nuisances in the way of closets eral nuisances in the way of closets which were in a bad state of drainage, being a menace to health and injurious to patients. Stock Inspector Baldy presented the following report, which was ordered filed:

In making my report for February, I will say that I have killed and had killed seventeen head of horses and mules infected with glanders and farcy, and I have advised the owners of said stock to use all measures possible to disinfect and clean up their stables so as to keep those diseases from spreading. It will be but a short time now, if such is done, before there is hardly a case existing in the county. Now, there has been considerable said to your board in regard to anthrax, and other diseases among cattle. I wish to say right the above, and certainly more than enough reason to move the capital to a more healthful location. The people of eases among cattle. I wish to say right here that there is no occasion for any fear of such diseases becoming epidemic. Tuesday Evening, March 14. Seven hundred and ninety-two tins of St. Charles Evaporated Cream were exchanged yesterday for coupons cut from our "ads" in the Sunday papers, yet some people complain that advertising doesn't pay.

It doesn't pay to advertise a poor article, for although the public may be induced to buy it once, they will quickly reject it on account of its in-

On account of its perfect color, superior flavor and easy digestibility they who once buy St. Charles Cream will buy it again. That's why it pays ns to advertise.

This milk question is so vast that it would require a whole issue of THE Times with several supplements to do it justice. But one can of St. Charles bought from your grocer will convince you quicker of its superiority than all the arguments I could bring to bear in a whole St. Charles edition of THE TIMES.

A Challenge—

Pistols and Coffee (with St. Charles Cream) for Two.

May the Best Man Survive.

While not interested in the tale of voe being emitted by the representative of the manufacturers of an old brand of "Evaporated Cream" put up by the old-fashioned process of sterilizing milk, which accounts for its "off" color and burnt taste, I am constrained, in justice to our superior product, and to silence envious tongues, to invite a comparison of St. Charles Evaporated Cream with any sweetened or unsweetened milk or cream in this market. The points to be considered are to be purity, color, flavor and digestibility. The test to be made in any grocery store in Los Angeles where the competing brands will be served in coffee or cocoa together with ice cream made from the respective creams.

EVEN new shades in whip cords, seven new shades in serges, seven new shades in Bengalines, are new today in the dress goods department; then comes a line of new designs in all-wool challies. In a few patterns the artists of Europe have outdone nature. The colorings and tracings are as delicate as the natural flowers, and more delicate and beautiful than any we have ever carried, What a world of new things in the big 100 feet of dress goods counter room. New shades of red. new shades of greens, new shades of tans, new shades of blues; some say a red is a red, but a red of this season is different than last; while it is a red, it is a new red; a tan, but a new tan; a blue, but different from an ordinary blue, and this is a reason for the large increase in the dress goods department. New goods at moderate prices -the class of goods the great majority buy. Goods from 50c to a dollar a yard, and cheaper ones if you desire them. Heretofore we have had trouble in the pattern department. The Delineator reaches us along about the 10th of each month, and it is then two weeks before we receive the patterns. We have made arrangements with the Butterick Publishing Company to forward a supply of patterns when the Delineators are sent, and these will come by mail. Although this will be quite an expense, yet we think this will do away with all criticisms, and this will largely compensate us. We endeavor to conduct this business above criticism; to satisfy the public and to gain their good will. We have also made arrangement to carry a very much larger stock than formerly, and we believe this everlasting wait for patterns will be done away with. It will take 30 days to get everything in a satisfactory shape, and we believe this will overcome the complaints in this respect when once we get into good running order. Our trade in every department has shown a tremendous growth. What was a large stock a year ago seems small now. It takes more goods as the trade increases. We are growing and growing rapidly. Who can tell the future of this business? New wrappers in the cloak department $2 to $3; new capes and new jackets. All best kid gloves now $1.25.

New York Stocks. New York, March 14.--American Sugar New York, March 14.—American Sugar project to be today's sensation at the Stock Exchange. The price opened at 103, rose to 103%, and then, under a steady outpouring of long stock, dropped to 95%. The story current yesterday that an injunction would be sued out to restrain payment of extra dividend on common stock was emphatically denied by officials of the company, who took the opportunity to reiterate their favorable statements in regard to the prosperous financial condition of the property. This did not allay apprehensions felt by small holders of shares, however, and the pressure continued right up to the close, the final quotation being 3/2 per cent, above the lowest. Enormous liquidations in this stock had little influence on the general list, and it was not until anthracite coalers gave way that there was any material decline in leading shares. An important feature of the trip, which a party of five Pasadenians took to Camp Wilson on Saturday, was unintentionally omitted in the report which appeared in Tuesday's issue of The Times. Sunday evening, after the travelers had recovered from the exertions of the previous day, and had become accustomed to snow drifts, icy blasts, and all that sort of thing, the idea suggested itself to bestow upon one of the neighboring peaks the name of some member of the party. After due deliberation, it was decided that this high honor could most properly be conferred upon J. S. Cox, in recognition of the dignity and importance which attach to the office of a city councilman. Accordingly at sunset, the party betook themselves over the snow so a commanding position, where a good, healthy peak off in the direction of Old Baldy was mutually agreed upon, and thereupon duly christened "Mt. Cox" with appropriate ceremonies, the most important feature being an eloquent address by Mr. Webster. Mr. Cox has hot fully declided what he will do with his mountain, but his idea is to donate it to some philanthropic purpose, in which connection he will be glad to receive suggestions from any and all sources.

COLTON.

Colton is the busiest town in the county ust now. The street work has been going on at a lively rate, getting the thorough-fares in as good condition as possible for the opening of the Citrus Fair. The vacant store buildings have been leased for various businesses to be conducted during the fair, and laborers are busy putting them in order. Drays and trucks have about all they can do carting exhibits to the pavilion and new goods to the stores and hotels. A large number of exhibits are at the pavilnon, and the body of men engaged at un-packing and placing them in position makes an animated scene. The work of decorating the interior of the pavillon is almost completed, and the drapery of bunt-ing and evergreen presents a pleasing picture.

The opening of the fair will occur tomorrow (Thursday) noon, instead of today, as first advertised, and the formal opening exercises will occur in the evening. The address will be delivered by President C. H. Keyes, of the Throop Polytechnic Institute, Pasadena. Nearly all the space in the building has been allotted, and a magnificent display is assured.

SAN BERNARDINO. For a long time past there has been an unusual amount of drunkenness among the Indians, and there have been but few ar-rests and convictions of parties providing them with liquors. On Monday two men rests and convictions of parties providing them with liquors. On Monday two men were arrested who are probably responsible for much of the distribution of "firewater" to these original native sons. They are Charles Polti, who keeps a disreputable saloon on the corner of First and E streets, and past which passengers for the Santa F6's E street station must pass. The county supervisors refused to issue a liquor license to Polti, yet he has continued to dispense drinks at the old stand, and a gang of rough drunks may be seen hanging about the place and lounging upon the steps most of the time. He was arrested for selling liquors without a license, and will have his hearing Thursday afternoon.

The other man arrested is Pete Allament, keeper of the Del Monte lodging-house, in which neighborhood there is often a disturbance of some kind. He, also, is charged with selling liquors without a license. His hearing occurs this (Wednesday) morning.

The Democratic municipal ticket is found to be in a serious predicament because of the oversight of the chairman and secrethe oversight of the chairman and secretary of the city convention. The nominees were properly certified and filed, but the filing of the names of five electors to receive and disburse the campaign finds, as required by a recent act of the Legislature, was overlooked. This places the Democratic nominees upon the footing of a new party, and they must be admitted for election by petition, upon which the signatures of 3 per cent. of the electors appear.

The bill provides for the creation of several new offices, whose capacity will be the same as the office of deputy in the several departments of the county government, and whose expense to the county will be about the same as the salaries heretofore allowed for deputies in the several offices. It improves digestion, invigorates the system, onriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, produces refreshing sleep, dispels manneholy and nervousness, and builds up both flesh and strength. It is a legitimate medicine—not a beverage. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to sour or ferment in the stomach and cause distress. As peculiar in its marvelous, remedial results as in its composition. Therefore, don't be put off with some worthloss compound easily, but dishonestly, recommended to be "just as good."

POLICE BUSINESS.

Routine Business Transacted at Yesterday's Session of the Board.

The Board of Police Commissioners met yesterday morning. There were present Mayor Rowan and Commission-ers Bradish and Weldon. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved, and a report was presented by the Clerk, stating that he had deposited to the credit of the police reward and charity fund the $25 paid by Constable Matherson of Fresno for the arrest of the Indian named Squanga.

The Chief reporting favorably a transfer of license at No. 213 East First street was granted to H. W. Gerke from H. C. Ludwig to himself.

C. M. Snell and Adolph Davis were given appointments as special policemen. This was on the recommendation of the Chief, who stated that those gentlement were assistant health officers and wished to have authority greater. and wished to have authority greater than at present, in order that they might more effectively discharge their duties.

Petitions were received asking for a transfer of saloon license at 101 Re-quena street, from John H. Kennedy to John Steiner: for transfer of saloon license at 2134 East First street from C. H. Schmidt to Anton Stern; for transfer of saloon license at 937 East First street from James Thorp to P. F. Gibbons, and from Joeriman & Brunold for license at 251 East First street. These were referred to the Chief.

The demands presented were approved. Chief Glass stated that he desired to have his annual report printed, and said that, if it were not, it would place him in an embarrassing position, as he was frequently asked to exchange such re-ports with the heads of other police departments. It was finally moved that the clerk be instructed to draw a requi-sition for 300 copies of the Chief's annual report for the year ending November 30 last, the expense of same not to exceed $45.

The board then adjourned.

Mr. O'Har extends an invitation to any person suffering as he did to visit him and hear of his wonderful improvement in health whole under treatment at the De Monco Medical Institute.

Mr. O'Hara says: "I went to these specialists suffering torment with catarrh of the head and stomach. I had jost my hearin entirely. I had ringing and roaring sounds in my head. my eyes were weak and watery, nose was filled with dry scabs with hot streaks running up the nostrils. Sharp, shooting pains through my chest and under my shoulders so I could not raise my arm above my head without getting a hitch in my shoulder, and to ald not lower it again without great pain; constant pain in my shoulder, and to ald not lower it again without great pain; constant pain in my eck. I was troubled with boating and a heavy weight in my stomach after eating: I could not sleep at night, and was constantly turning from one side to the other. While asleep hot flushes would pass over me and I would awake with a start; my circulation was miserable, and I was cold even under heaviest of clothing. I had been troubled with this disease for sixteen years, and it seemed that the more patent medicine I took, and the longer I lived here, the worse the disease got. Why, I never had catarrh until I came here.

"I have been under the care of Dr. De Monco and associates but a short time, and I am so much imp oved I feel that I am really going to be cured; yes I do.

"I am satisfied in my mind that the local and constitutional treatment administered by these specialists is the only treatment for catarrh, and I would advise any person to give them a trial. You will never regret it."
